Chapter 1: Burgerman

Who is Burgerman?

There, in the Foodie Town, there was a kind and nice burger.

Everyone in the town was food! Like really. And Burger man was really nice. He always wanted to do more for the foods. To help them in more amazing ways. He used to say, "I have to think of something...". And one time he found out what to do. He thought he could become a super burger and help almost everyone he can. Burger Man said, "Yes! That's exactly it! I can do it if I give it my best shot". He made many cool weapons.

Not too harmful. But those that will help him fight crime. One day, Mr. Grill Chicken was walking to Burger Man's home. He wanted to just see him and talk with him since they did not meet each other for a pretty long time. When Mr. Grill Chicken came inside the house, Mr. Grill Chicken was talking about many things just like how you and I would talk with others.

Then, after Grill Chicken had finished talking, Burger Man said, "Hey! I know I'm just a small burger. But I think that even small foods can do great things. And I am going to be a superhero and fight crime, save those who are attacked, save the little kitty cats in the trees, and many more. I may not also be very experienced, but I'm going to give it a try". Grill Chicken was really astonished at how brave he wanted to be! I mean risking everything to help others.

Chapter 2: The First Incidents

Burgerman was really happy. But he was not overconfident. He wanted to find his first problem to help with something. He first found Corn Dog struggling with her grocery. He immediately ran and took some of the groceries and stuff

And then saying, "Help is here!".

"Oh, Burger! It's you! Thank you so much", She said to him.
"You can call me Burgerman. I am going to help whomever I can", he responded.

"Oh... That's fine. Thank you again".

And then they both walked away.

The second thing Burgerman saw was a little kitty cat stuck in a tree. Which you may guess climbed onto it and got stuck up there. The Little sandwich kid was sad and worried. It was his cat. Burgerman gave himself a big bounce he was in the air, going towards the cat's direction, everyone starring at him. It was a spectacular bounce indeed. He just got the cat and removed it from where it was stuck. And just let himself drop. The sandwich was freaked out! He thought they both were goners. But he threw a slice of cheese and splat they both fell. There was cheese everywhere! It was really amazing! I wish you and I could have seen it. Anyways. Everyone near the tree was covered with cheese. They all were really enjoying it. They ate it and were also happy Burgerman saved a kid's cat losing a layer of cheesy cheese. That was two missions complete. He was happy and grateful because tomorrow was Christmas!

Chapter 3: F.O.O.D

An agency

There was a super-secret agency of top agents. That was a well-known team of the top agents. And you know, the main headquarters was in the Foodie town. They were doing their best to ave the people.. hhh... I mean all the food in the town. F.O.O.D stands for The Federal Official Operative Delicious Squad. It was Christmas! And BurgerMan wanted to visit the whole agency. The building was a few blocks away from BurgerMan's house. So he went there. The reason he went there was that the crimes were increasing and he wanted to talk with them about it. He went to the Founder of the agency. He had a special meeting on Christmas! This what they talked about:

"Merry Christmas Sir!", said Burgerman to the founder of F.O.O.D

"Merry Christmas to you too Burgerman!

"We devolved tracking systems to find and track all villains. Anyone who wants to do things that harm people. It can guess sometimes. It's right most of the time. And I want you to see this!".

He led Burgerman to the lab where he showed something.

Chapter 4: Tracked!!

He showed Burgerman the tracking machine. A new villain was discovered. He started causing havoc and chaos on the other side of the city. Burgerman had to stop him. The bad guy's name was Noodle Man. He used powerful noodles and destroyed everything. He was going to stop him.....
